4. Appointment & Our Responsibilities

- 4.1 We are a member of a global group of companies (“DNS Firms”), each with a separate legal entity.
- 4.2 We may subcontract portions of the Services to other DNS Firms who may deal with you directly. Despite this, we alone will be responsible to you for the Work, the performance of the Services and other obligations under this Agreement.
- 4.3 We are committed to upholding professional standards in our interactions with clients, employees, staff, regulators, and others and will carry out the Services with the necessary care and skill. Our Services and work are performed in line with the CIMA Code of Ethics, reflecting good industry practice and maintaining the respectability of the profession. You can review this code at www.cimaglobal.com.

- 4.4 This Agreement with you is exclusively for the Services set out in the Engagement Letter and this Agreement and not intended to imply that we will handle any Services outside of that for you unless agreed so in writing.
- 4.5 Our Work is for your exclusive use and may not be used by anyone else or in any other way than intended. Unless we provide our consent:
- (a) our Work must not be relied on by anyone other than you;
  - (b) you must not name us or refer to us, our Work or Services in any written materials, other than to your professional advisers, in any publicly filed documents or as required by law;
  - (c) We will have no liability to any parties except you and any third parties to whom our advice is expressly addressed;
  - (d) We accept no responsibility to third parties for any advice, information or material produced as part of our work for you which you make available to them. Except as expressly mentioned in these terms, it is not intended by the Parties to this Agreement that any term which may be interpreted as conferring a benefit on any person who is not a Party to this Agreement should be enforceable by such party, whether under the provisions of the Contracts (Rights of Third Parties) Act 1999 or otherwise.
- 4.6 If you provide a copy of any Work to any of your professional advisors or any other person with our consent, you must ensure that they are aware of and comply with the limits placed on the use and disclosure of our Work (including that they may not rely on the Work) and treat our Work as confidential.
- 4.7 Our advice may be time-sensitive, meaning that laws and practices may change over time and that advice that was relevant at a particular time may no longer be so in future. The advice that we will provide will be prepared on the basis of the then current tax legislation and HMRC practice, concessions, and interpretations. If these change, then the changes may be applied retrospectively, which is not within our control or liability.
- 4.8 Further, advice will be on the current position and will not consider historical planning, restructuring or advice not undertaken by us. We will not be responsible to refresh or update advice due to changes unless requested to do so and agreeing to undertake this in writing or in terms of an amendment to the Engagement Letter and the Services scoped.
- 4.9 Our advice and Services are limited to that of accountants (including advice on transactions and restructuring). You should seek the appropriate legal advice from a solicitor when and where appropriate.
- 4.10 You acknowledge that use of, or reliance on our Work by a person other than you may expose us to a claim from a person whose interests we have not considered in providing the Services. You will indemnify us against any loss we suffer or incur as a result of any distribution to, use of and/or reliance on any Work by a third-party or Specialist to the fullest extent permissible in law.

- 4.11 Our official advice related to our Work is provided through documents with our letterhead or DNS-branded reports. Please rely on these written forms for any definitive guidance. Other forms of communication, like oral remarks, are not intended as formal advice.
- 4.12 We strive to offer a high-quality service that meets your needs. Where our Services are defective or not to the standard that the Consumer Legislation requires of us, you can ask us to repeat or fix such Service or if we are unable to fix it without significant inconvenience or an unreasonable time, you may choose a reduction in Fees. If anything, however, arises that you are not satisfied with, please reach out to our Group Operations Director Gary Zouvani on gary@dnsaccountants.co.uk as soon as possible and mark your communication clearly as a complaint.
- 4.13 If you notify us within 7 days of receiving any Work (such as reports, financial statements, or tax filings) of any errors or defects, we will review the Work in question. If an inherent defect is found, which is due to our error, we will correct the defect at no additional charge to you. This may involve re-performing the relevant services or providing a new or corrected Work.
- 4.14 We're committed to addressing any concerns you might have. If you bring a complaint to our attention, we will investigate it thoroughly and take fair steps towards resolution. If you're still not content with the outcome, you have the option to approach our governing body, CIMA at www.cimaglobal.com.
- 4.15 We are not authorised by the Financial Conduct Authority to conduct Investment Business.
- 4.16 Where requested or required, we may introduce you to third-party suppliers and Specialists, for instance in relation to tax, mortgages, financing, software products or insurance and various other products. It is important to note that:
- (a) We may get an introduction commission on the making of such referrals. We will at all times comply with the relevant provisions of the Bribery Act 2010 and have your best interest in mind in line with our professional duties, when doing so;
  - (b) We cannot be held liable for any losses you may incur using the Services of such third-party suppliers and Specialists and you may be subject to their terms and conditions over which we have no control or insight. It remains your responsibility to properly vet any such third-party suppliers and Specialist by doing due diligence on them before engaging them and you are at no time obliged to use them above any other supplier or Specialist you prefer;
  - (c) We will not be liable for any losses, penalties, surcharges, interests, or additional tax liabilities that are caused by the acts or omissions of any Specialist introduced by us.

5. Tax Planning and Advice

- 5.1 We will not provide tax compliance Services unless covered by a separate engagement letter or stated in your Letter of Engagement and specifically agreed to in writing.

- 5.2 Concerning the Automatic Exchange of Information (AEOI), including FATCA, unless covered separately, we are not responsible for compliance with the International Tax Compliance Regulations 2015. However, if needed, we can offer advice on these Regulations' requirements and help set up systems for AEOI compliance.
- 5.3 We may provide generic tax advice and support in relation to your tax affairs from time to time, however for comprehensive and advanced tax planning, you may be introduced to Specialist advisors.
- 5.4 Tax planning has inherent risks involved, such as changes in tax laws or treatments, and we can only advise on the position as at the time of the advice. You will need to assess the risks of following such structures proposed with a long-term view in mind and understand that it may change over time.
- 5.5 While we will, in line with our professional duties, endeavour to ensure that any tax structure proposed to you is effective, you will appreciate that the outcome of any tax planning is never guaranteed.
- 5.6 Due to the nature of the work involved, we do not guarantee a successful outcome on any submissions or appeals made to HMRC. Your tax position depends on your own particular circumstances, and there is no guarantee that HMRC will agree that the tax relief proposed will be applicable in your circumstances.
- 5.7 We will endeavour to record all advice on important matters in writing. Advice given orally is not intended to be relied upon unless confirmed in writing. If you wish to be able to rely on that advice, you must ask for the advice to be confirmed by us in writing.
- 5.8 Prior to you undertaking any transactions, ensure you have received a detailed letter of advice setting out our understanding of the tax implications arising and any associated risks. The tax treatment of any transaction can always be challenged by HMRC e.g., on the basis that HMRC assigns a different Interpretation to the legislation, which is out of our control and for which we accept no liability whatsoever.
- 5.9 If a trust is created as a result of any proposed transaction, then we are not assumed to be advising the trustees unless we enter into a separate Agreement and Letter of Engagement with them.

- 6.5 If you do not meet the obligations outlined in clauses 6.1 to 6.4 and Schedule 2 in a timely manner, it could hinder our ability to provide Services. In such cases, we may either suspend our Services or terminate our engagement in addition to charging the additional fees set out.
- 6.6 It is your responsibility to ensure that your financial activities are conducted with integrity. You must also safeguard your financial assets and take necessary steps to prevent and detect fraud and other irregularities.

7. Fees & Payment

Fees

- 7.1 Fees may be charged as a fixed amount (per project or Package) or based on time spent, as outlined, and agreed in the Letter of Engagement. Any estimates for Ad-Hoc Services and/or Fees are based on our initial understanding of the work required and scoped specifically accordingly.
- 7.2 We reserve the right to increase the Fees for any Services at any time with notice to you provided that we will not be entitled to increase the Fees on less than 30 (thirty) days prior notice.
- 7.3 If tasks fall outside the Statement of Facts as per your Letter of Engagement or are more demanding than anticipated, we may adjust our Fees accordingly with notice to you.
- 7.4 In particular, our Fees will change if:
  - (a) Your transactions or turnover differ by more than 10% from the information you provided;
  - (b) The Statement of Facts changes, necessitating work outside this initial scope we agreed and estimated for.
- 7.5 If you have a Package, Fees will be subject to an annual adjustment in line with the RPI rate in England, with 30 (thirty) days' notice to you for both monthly and yearly Packages.
- 7.6 If you don't agree with the Fee changes, you may give the standard 3(three) month cancellation notice and exit this Agreement without penalty. If we don't hear from you within 7 (seven) days of sending you the new Fee changes, we will assume you accept the new Fees.
- 7.7 For Ad-Hoc Services, we require full payment upfront, unless we agree otherwise in writing.
- 7.8 Your invoice will include our Fees and any related expenses. We will always discuss extra costs with you before incurring them.

- 7.11 If you are taking a Package Services, we require you to set up a direct debit to settle our Fees.

- 7.13 The following will attract additional fees set out in Schedule 1:
- (a) Cash bank deposits.
  - (b) Direct debit payment fails.
  - (c) Payments made by cheque or cash.
- 7.14 All invoices will be payable to us without deduction or set-off within 7 (seven) days from invoice. (Direct Debits excluded)
- 7.15 When making first payments by bank transfer, we require you to verify our account details over the phone to prevent any fraudulent interception of our bank account details.
- 7.16 We may review our payment procedures from time to time and you will be notified of any changes implemented or new payment methods introduced by us. Should we vary our bank account details, this will always be on a formal letter from us and signed off by a director and not a mere e-mail from an employee. Please do be vigilant and check this telephonically.
- 7.17 We will not treat any amount due and owing to us as paid until we are in receipt of cleared funds for the total amount owed.
- 7.18 If you fail to pay any invoice by its due date:
- (a) we may exercise a particular right of lien over your books and records and withhold those documents until such time as payment is received in full. In exercising this right, we will always fully comply with any legal or professional obligations;
  - (b) we may also suspend all work in process until such time as we receive full payment. Take special note that, should we not be able to process VAT, PAYE submissions or similar in this period, you hereby indemnify us in full and we will have no liability whatsoever for any fines or penalties you may incur due to late or no submission/compliance.
  - (c) all invoices for the remainder of the Term or Package will remain payable;
  - (d) should your account remain outstanding for more than 3(three) months, We will have the right to terminate any Software license. The responsibility will lie with you to ensure you either take over such license or recover the data it holds. - 7.19 If a payment is late, we'll add interest to the amount you owe based on the current rate set out in the Late Payment of Commercial Debts (Interest) Act 1998.

7.20 If we've agreed in the Letter of Engagement to use subcontractors for any part of the Services, we might ask you to pay those specific invoices directly. This ensures we can settle our subcontractor's charges on time. We'll always let you know in advance if this applies.

8. Handling Your Funds

8.1 At times, we might hold money on your behalf. This money will be kept separate from our own and will be held in a designated client account, separate and distinguishable and always be managed following the Clients' Money Regulations set by CIMA.

8.2 We will never handle payments to HMRC on your behalf. Instead, we will guide you to pay any owed taxes/payments directly to HMRC and point you to the right gov.uk webpage. If you ever get a request to pay us for an HMRC payment, please reach out to the Operations Director, Gary Zouvani on gary@dnsaccountants.co.uk immediately and do not make such payment.

9. Conflicts of Interest

9.1 Should a conflict of interest emerge in our relationship with you, or between you and another client of ours, and if it's possible to manage that conflict successfully by implementing appropriate safeguards to protect your interests, we will do so.

9.2 If any conflict is detected that cannot be addressed in a manner that safeguards your interests, we regret that we might have to cease providing further Services to you. Should this scenario arise, we will promptly notify you. We do, however, reserve the right to serve other clients, even if their interests might differ from or be in opposition to yours, provided we uphold the confidentiality obligations highlighted earlier and in line with our professional standards required by CIMA.

10. Anti-Money Laundering Legislation

10.1 All accountants must comply with onerous duties imposed by the Anti Money Laundering Legislation, which are intended to prevent the activities of terrorists and other criminals by denying them access to technical expertise. If we fail to adhere to these duties, we risk imprisonment.

10.2 Before accepting your instructions, we may need to obtain 'satisfactory evidence' to verify our identity. At times, we might also need to validate the identities of third parties, understand the source of funds or other property, ascertain the purpose behind any instructions, determine the beneficial ownership on your side, or gather other relevant information. We might also require this evidence after we have started acting on your instructions.

10.3 We assume that our clients are truthful and abide by the law. However, if there ever arises a reason to believe (even if we don't have actual suspicion) that your instructions might be related to 'criminal property', we are obligated to make a report to the NCA. Importantly, we are prohibited from informing you that we have made such a report.

- 10.4 If we've reported a suspicion to the NCA, we cannot act on your instructions unless we receive their consent. If the NCA does not decline our request within 7 (seven) Business Days, we may proceed. However, if they deny our request during this time, we cannot continue for an additional 31 (thirty-one) days from the refusal date.
- 10.5 'Criminal property' can take any legal form, be it money, real estate, rights, or any advantage originating from criminal activity. The actual perpetrator of the crime is irrelevant, as is the distance the property might be from the original crime. If your property, even if acquired honestly, represents a benefit from another's criminal act, we must still file a report.
- 10.6 Activity is considered 'criminal' if it is a crime under UK law, no matter how trivial. For example, tax evasion is a criminal offence, but an honest mistake is not. We will assume that all discrepancies are mistakes unless there is contrary evidence.

11. Data Protection & Retention of Documents

- 11.1 Protecting your Personal Data is important to us. Our latest privacy policy can be found at <https://www.dnsassociates.co.uk/privacy-policy>. Please take particular note of our right to destroy documents we store on your behalf.
- 11.2 You agree and undertake to always comply fully with your obligations under the applicable Data Protection Laws as regards the Services and information you provide us with and indemnify us in full for any loss or damage we suffer in relation to your breach of this clause.
- 11.3 Where you provide us with Confidential Information, we will at all times, keep it confidential, except as required by law or as provided for under regulatory, ethical, or other professional rules that apply to this Agreement and the Services. The obligation is subject to our legal duty in certain circumstances to disclose information to the NCA.
- 11.4 Our firm may be subject to audit or quality checks by external firms or organisations. We may also outsource work such as administrative, research and preparation to assist with your matter. Information from your file may therefore be shared in such circumstances. We will always aim to obtain a confidentiality agreement with the third-party and will comply with the Data Protection Laws.
- 11.5 It is your legal obligation to keep documents and records pertinent to your tax matters. As we carry out our Services, we might gather information from you and other sources related to your tax dealings. We will ensure any original documentation is returned to you, subject to full payment of the outstanding invoices for Services.
- 11.6 When our engagement concludes, we'll discuss the approach concerning access to cloud-accounting records to guarantee uninterrupted Service. This might necessitate you establishing direct relationships with third-party software vendors and separately bearing any associated costs. The law mandates the retention of documents and records pertinent to your tax matters as detailed in Schedule 3 below.

11.7 Although some documents might technically be your property, we reserve the right to discard electronically stored correspondence and other documents that exceed 7 (seven) years in age. This includes any of your documents left unclaimed within this 7 (seven)-year timeframe. Please notify us if you need specific documents returned before this period expires.

12. Intellectual Property Rights

12.1 You agree that any Intellectual Property rights owned by us or licensed by us, used in the provision of the Services will remain our property or that of the third-party licensor Specialist.

12.2 We may develop or invent processes, know-how or documents in the course of providing the Services, the Intellectual Property rights of which will vest in us, unless agreed otherwise upfront.

12.3 This clause 12 will survive the termination or expiry of our Agreement.

13. Confidential Information

13.1 Both Parties will maintain the confidentiality of the other's Confidential Information and will not, without the prior written consent of the other Party, disclose the Confidential Information (or permit others to do so) other than as necessary for the performance of their express rights and obligations under this Agreement.

13.2 Both Parties undertake to disclose the Confidential Information only to those of their Personnel, to who, and to the extent to which, such disclosure is necessary for the purposes intended under this Agreement; and ensure that such Personnel are made aware of and agree in writing to observe the obligations in this clause.

13.3 A Party will be responsible for the acts and omissions of its Personnel as if they were their own acts or omissions.

You hereby indemnify us in full against any claim, loss or damage suffered by you or another as a result, to the fullest extent permitted by law.

15.2 The extent of our combined liability under or in connection with this Agreement (regardless of whether such liability arises in tort, contract or in any other way related to this Agreement and whether or not caused by negligence or misrepresentation or under any indemnity) will not exceed the value of the Fees received by us under this Agreement from you in the previous 12 (twelve)-month period.

fraudulent misrepresentation; and/or any other losses which cannot be excluded or limited by applicable law.

- 15.6 The way you apply any Work or advice we provide will remain subject to good practice and due diligence on your part.
- 15.7 Nothing in this clause or Agreement should be construed as an attempt to limit our legal or professional duty of care to you in providing the Services.
- 15.8 This clause will survive termination of this Agreement.

16. Consumer Cancellation Rights

- 16.1 14-Day Cooling Off Period. As a Consumer, you may have the right to cancel the contract with us within the 14-day “cooling off” period allowed by the Consumer Contract Regulations 2013. Please read the rest of this clause carefully as it may not always apply.
- 16.2 You can notify us at info@dnsaccountants.co.uk before the 14 days end. You may use the standard form that we have attached to these terms (Schedule 4), or you can merely send us a clear statement, stating that you are cancelling in terms of your 14-day cooling off rights and providing the Engagement Letter and reference numbers applicable.
- 16.3 Refund. If you cancel this contract in line with your rights above, we will reimburse you in full for any initial payments that you have made to us if none of the Services set out in our Engagement Letter have been performed yet.
- 16.4 No Right to change your mind. Please note under the Consumer Contract Regulations 2013, you do not have a right to cancel the contract on changing you mind in respect of any of the following circumstances:
  - (a) Services started before expiry of 14 day Cooling Off Period. If you have expressly requested us to begin the provision of Services during the 14-day cooling off period, and have acknowledged in writing your understanding that by doing so you lose your right to cancel the contract within this period, you will not be entitled to a refund for any services provided up to the point of cancellation.
- 16.5 Services Already Commenced. You do not have a right to change your mind in respect of Services that have already commenced or been completed, even if the cooling off period has not expired. If you cancel after we have started the Services, you must pay us for the Services provided up until the time you tell us that you have changed your mind.
- 16.6 Reductions to Refund. If you are validly exercising your right to cancel (change your mind) under clause 16.2 above then we may reduce your refund of the Fees to reflect any resources already used, the value of the services already provided, or any other reasonable costs incurred by us up until the point of cancellation. This may include the time spent by our professionals in the delivery of the Services, any expenses incurred in relation to your specific accountancy needs (such as any subscriptions entered into), deductions for any work that has been completed and cannot be reversed, which was necessary to begin the provision of services as per your request. If we issue a refund before we have had the opportunity to assess the extent of the services provided, and later discover that additional work had been undertaken beyond what was accounted for in the initial refund, you may be required to pay an additional amount that fairly reflects the value of the work performed.
